Maysville Republican

FIRST YEAR. MAYSVILLE, KY., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1892. ONE CENT.

Our Tramp About The City.

THE switch-points for the street railway extension to the Fair Grounds arrived yesterday.

MRS. JESSE F. ALLISON of Ridgeville died of consumption, aged 32 years. Burial at Shannon.

ABOUT half a dozen members of St. Patrick's Benevolent Society have died since the 1st of January.

THE Oddfellows of Ironton will erect a $22,000 temple soon. It'll be a dandy, won't it, Brother Reeves?

THE Directors of the Maysville Fuel Company have issued a call for 20% on the capital stock of $30,000.

ELDER MCLELLAN of the Christian Church at Mount Olivet has received a call from Midway at $1,500 a year.

JOHN ZECH will offer his Market street business house at public sale May 5th, if not sold privately before that time.

JOHN HUNTER, formerly of Washington, lately removed from Illinois, died at Germantown a few days ago, aged 72.

THOMAS M. FREY of Lewis county is another Democrat who has been spoken of as a candidate to succeed State Senator Poyntz.

JOHN WESLEY LINVILLE of Robertson county has been granted a pension of $12 per month, with arrearages amounting to over $300.

THE St. Lawrence is laid up above the foot of Broadway, Cincinnati. She will probably be used for excursion purposes this summer.

THE Lexington Press Club is raising $1,500 to supplement the fund of $1,000 to pay for entertaining the Kentucky Press Association.

THE Catalogue of Hayswood Female Seminary for the current year is now in the hands of the printer and will be issued in a week or so.

HON. C. J. BRONSTON and Senator Mulligan of Lexington are out and out Cleveland men, and are candidates for Delegate to the Chicago Convention.

W. H. DULANEY and YOUNG E. ALLISON, both of Louisville, have been elected President and Secretary, respectively, of Kentucky's World's Fair Commissioners.

AT the meeting of Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., Monday evening Hon. Horace January, Past Grand Commander of Kentucky, was, by rising vote, made a life member of the Commandery.

THE funeral of Captain George A. Stivers at Ripley yesterday afternoon was one of the largest ever seen in that city. A number of members of Joseph Heiser Post of this city were in attendance.

MR. AND MRS. R. A. COCHRAN, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cochran, Jr., A. M. J. Cochran, Mrs. Horace January, Miss Margaret Finch, James Cochran and Hal Curran are all in Danville attending the Cochran-Welsh nuptials.

REV. J. M. EVANS returned home on Monday after having conducted two very successful meetings at Huntington, W. Va. There were ninety additions to the Presbyterian Church and enough money was raised to build a new church.

AUTHORITIES upon the subject have about arrived at the conclusion that the late frosts did no serious damage so far as the fruits are concerned, except in very low places and that the peaches and cherry crops will be up to the average.

A POSSE of indignant citizens are in hot pursuit of the murderers, Bud Anderson and Lacy Roberts, who escaped from the Marshall County Jail at Benton a few weeks ago. Anderson and Roberts have been going about the country hunting and fishing, and have been seen frequently during the past week.

THE remains of the late Captain Isaac Nelson were brought here on the F. F. V. last night. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock—the 66th anniversary of his birth—from the residence of Simon Nelson, Second and Lexington streets. There will be services at the house conducted by the Rev. J. E. Wright.

AT the meeting of DeKalb Lodge last night, being the Seventy-third Anniversary of American Oddfellowship, impromptu speeches were made by Dr. J. H. Samuel, John Duley, C. L. Sallee, W. H. Cox, Thomas A. Davis, James Rice of Ringgold, C. W. Wardle, Allan D. Cole, John W. Thompson, W. R. Warder, W. T. Cole and William A. Tolle.

THREE funerals yesterday.

GRASS and all of the cereals are growing nicely.

CIRCUIT COURT lasts two weeks longer, and then the Court of Claims.

THE American Tobacco Company will erect a $15,000 factory at Owensboro.

THE city Board of Equalization will remain in session several days yet. But few changes are being made.

SENATOR MULLIGAN of Fayette offered a joint resolution in the Assembly Monday providing for a recess from May 23d to October 4th.

AN event in Covington was the marriage of Miss B. Brooke Bright Haldeman to F. A. Bensberg. The ceremony took place at the Cathedral, Bishop Maes officiating, assisted by Rev. Father Lambert.

KENTUCKY WEATHER REPORT.

What We May Expect Between This Time and To-morrow Evening.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU. }
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27 1892. }

Special to THE PUBLIC LEDGER.

Generally fair and slightly warmer.

☞ The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening.

A NEW BOOM WANTED.

The German boom is thin and pale,
The Hill boom is no better,
The Palmer boom has lost its tail,
The Boies boom is wetter,
The Whitney boom is crippled, too,
The Cleveland boom can't win it,
The Gray boom's turned a deep dark blue—
Is anybody's in it?

Personal Mention.

☞ If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

W. B. DAWSON and wife left for Louisville this morning.

DR. W. T. BURDICK of Tollesboro, on his way to Cincinnati, called on THE LEDGER yesterday.

MRS. Sallie Andrews of Georgetown, O., has returned home after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Smith of West Third street.

MR. and MRS. Samuel McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Simon N. Newell, Miss Mamie McDonald, Nelson McDonald, and Misses Mary and Lillian Nelson daughters of the late Dr. Nelson, all of Cincinnati, are here to attend the funeral of Captain Isaac Nelson.

MISS AMANDA ROSS died Tuesday at Ogden, aged 39.

THE Bonanza's trips will hereafter not be extended beyond Maysville.

KITTY HARRISON, a maiden lady of Georgetown, died Monday, aged 93.

THREE murders in two weeks at a colored railway tie camp near Paducah.

THERE is sorrow in the family of Bro. Zoller. His pet rabbit died a few days ago.

THE American Tobacco Company has purchased a lot in Owensboro and will erect a $15,000 factory thereon.

J. P. STEVENSON of Bracken county procured a license to wed Eva D. Shinkle of Covington. They were married by Elder Keene.

AT Owingsville, U. S. G. Purvis was convicted of an unprovoked assault on DeWitt Flood, fined $500 and given a term in jail.

W. W. THOMAS, the Cincinnati spice dealer arrested recently charged with forging labels of "Barlow's Indigo Blue," was bound over to the Grand Jury in the sum of $500.

THE late John Fox was buried yesterday afternoon, the members of St. Patrick's Benevolent Society, headed by Hauck's Reed and Brass Band, leading the procession.

THE Board of Equalization, composed of Councilmen H. L. Newell, J. I. Salisbury, M. F. Kehoe, Assessor A. N. Huff, and Martin A. O'Hare City Clerk, is in session at the Mayor's Office.

REV. GEORGE O. BARNES and family will leave New Orleans next week for this state, and will come up the river by boat. The Bourbon News says the troupe will probably stop off at Owensboro, Henderson, Louisville and Covington.

NO PARDON WANTED BY HUGH.

Ex-Postmaster Mulholland to Take an Appeal and Give Bond To-Morrow.

Hugh Mulholland, ex-Postmaster at Paducah, was sentenced by Judge Barr at Louisville this morning, but if he ever enters upon a prison term it will be many months from now.

Immediately after sentence was passed Mulholland's attorneys gave notice of an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Judge Barr will fix a bond, which the prisoner will furnish, and he will again be free.

The Supreme Court does not convene until next September, and there is no telling how much of the term will be exhausted before the Mulholland case is taken up.

The appeal for a new trial is based principally upon the claim that testimony which Judge Barr refused to admit during the trial was competent in the light of reason. The higher courts it is claimed are more and more taking the stand that each case should be tried in the lower courts on its own merits and not in accordance with the method of procedure in previous trials. Precedents are not regarded as they formerly were. Judge Barr's refusal to grant a new trial was in the light of a precedent, and Mulholland's attorneys, the leading one of whom is Judge Lindsay, hope the Supreme Court will pay due regard to the common-sense plan of allowing all testimony having any bearing on a criminal case to be introduced at the trial.

It was rumored that President Harrison had promised to pardon Mr. Mulholland. The latter, however, does not want a pardon. He believes, as do his attorneys, that the Supreme Court will reverse the decision of the lower court, and at the new trial that he will be found not guilty and the stigma removed from his name.

A MEETING of unusual interest of two weeks' duration at the Baptist Church, Shelbyville, Rev. W. F. Kom. Pastor, has just closed. There were forty additions to the membership. Thirty-five were baptised. The Pastor was assisted by the Rev. Fred D. Hale of Louisville.

COLONEL JOHN V. DAY, Dr. Samuel Pangburn and George M. Clinger left morning for Lebanon, to represent Joe Heiser Post at the State Encampment of the G. A. R. Mrs. Carrie L. Davis and Mrs. John Helmer accompanied the party as delegates to the Women's Relief Corps.

BRUCE CHAMP has it from reliable authority that Editor C. C. Moore will be taken before the Grand Jury for the purpose of being interrogated regarding the author of certain letters, and that he has been so informed, and announces that he will rot in jail before divulging the name of the author.

HENRY BOYCE, second mate on the St. Lawrence, had a cold bath in the muddy river at Cincinnati. While standing on a stage of the Mail Line Wharfboat, a reckless driver allowed the pole of his wagon to strike Boyce and knock him off the stage into the river. He succeeded in swimming out. It is said the driver was drunk.

THE funeral of the late James T. Gault, Jr., took place yesterday morning at his late residence near Washington at 10 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. J. E. Wright of this city. The pallbearers were Messrs. L. G. Maltby, Edward Gault, Barker Jones, Thelse Owens, E. P. Wheeler and S. T. Hickman. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Washington.

THE consolidation of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky and the Consolidated Tank Line Company of Cincinnati will necessitate also a consolidation of the Louisville and Cincinnati offices, but which of the two places will be favored is not known. The location of the headquarters carries with it considerable patronage in the way of supplies for Southern agencies.

JUDGE VARNON has made a full settlement with the heirs of the late Colonel A. M. Swope, and has distributed among them not less than $93,000. This is about $13,000 more than Colonel Swope was worth at the time of his death, over two years ago. So much of his money was invested in mortgages in Bourbon county farms that it could not be collected until the expiration of the loans, on which $13,000 interest had accumulated.

A MARRIAGE license was issued yesterday to Joseph Weaver and Miss Ellen Burns. The couple will be married this evening at half-past seven o'clock by the Rev. J. B. Glorieux at his residence on Limestone street

Both Mr. Weaver and his bride-to-be live in the West End of the city, and have a large circle of friends and acquaintances who wish them well. The groom is employed at Poynts Bro.'s Distillery where he has been for several years.

AFTER EIGHTEEN LONG YEARS.

Two Residents of Newport Claim They Are Victims of Spite Work.

A sensation was caused in Newport by the arrest of John B. Atkinson and his wife, upon the charge of being unmarried.

The couple were arrested upon a warrant sworn out by Willis D. Benton, a pension agent of that city, which accuses Atkinson and Theresa Morton, the latter having been recognized as the former's wife for the past eighteen years, with having lived together without ever having been wedded.

The defendants, who have four children and have always been regarded as respectable and honest people, were greatly surprised when taken into custody, and claimed that they were married by a Magistrate in Cincinnati sixteen years ago. Their marriage certificate was lost, however, several years ago by the burning of a flatboat on the Ohio river. Benton, the prosecuting witness in the case, became quite well known at the last term of the United States Court in Covington, when he was indicted for overcharging pension clients, who claimed that he had used various questionable methods to extort fees from them far in excess of those allowed by law.

When Mr. Atkinson was told who had procured his arrest he stated that it was simply a piece of spite work on the part of Benton, who had been employed by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Libby, to assist in securing her a pension. The attorney wrote one letter to Washington for her, and when she received her money he demanded $300. She refused to give him that much, until one day he got her in his office and, according to her story, compelled her to sign a check for that amount. This is one of the cases in which Benton was indicted and as the trial comes up next month, the defendants think he is endeavoring to discredit their testimony by having them arrested upon this charge. It has caused much talk, and will be fully ventilated in the Courts.

W. M. BIRELY of Vanceburg is named as a suitable person to fill the unexpired term of Senator Poyntz.

SCOTT HAYES, son of ex-President Hayes, was in Covington yesterday, the guest of Will Hayes, and called upon a number of pretty Kentucky girls. Mr. Hayes is a handsome, courteous and refined gentleman. He complimented the ladies he had the pleasure of meeting very highly. He ought to come to Maysville if he wants to see pretty girls.

THE Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad management have resolved to make a concession to the holders of the Elizabethport, Lexington and Big Sandy six per cent. bonds who expressed dissatisfaction with the terms of the sale of the last named road to the Chesapeake and Ohio. The Big Sandy sixes were to receive a guaranteed four per cent. bond. As a result of a vigorous rebellion on the part of the holders of the $3,280,000 Big Sandy sixes, the Chesapeake and Ohio people now offer them a guaranteed five per cent. bond. The offer will probably be accepted.

LEWIS JOHNSON, colored, yesterday afternoon filled up on different kinds of whisky and kicked up quite a disturbance on Forest avenue. He went to the home of Editor M. F. Marsh and told Mrs. Marsh that Mr. Littleton Hill had sent him for a revolver to kill a mad dog futher up the street. The lady not knowing his condition, and thinking he was employed by Mr. Hill, gave him the weapon which contained two cartridges. The fellow took the pistol out on the street and began firing much to the discomfort of the citizens living in the neighborhood. James Dunn and William Wise captured and disarmed him, marched him down town and before Mayor Pearce who ordered him taken to jail until he sobered up.

Johnson was tried in the Mayor's Court this morning and fined $20 and costs.

THE MASON CIRCUIT COURT.

Gleanings From Late Yesterday's and Early To-Day's Docket.

Parker & Co. and others vs. J. T. Lung; dismissed settled.

Omar Dodson vs. Elizabeth Long; judgment rendered.

Alice Dora vs. Anthony Weiand; dismissed settled.

In the case of Lena Tolle by R. P. Tolle her next friend, vs. Thomas Cooper, wherein Miss Tolle sues Cooper for $10,000 damages for slander, the jury was sworn and the case continued until Friday morning. The parties interested live near Orangeburg. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant circulated reports in the neighborhood reflecting on her character and brings suit for the amount named.

John R. Wilhite vs. H. T. Warder; set for next Monday.

The jury in the case of James A. Jackson vs. Eli Umstadt rendered a verdict of $100 for plaintiff.

In Society.

On Monday evening Miss Power entertained at her home, Sharon, Ohio, in honor of her guest Miss Gillespie of Pittsburgh. Dancing was the principal amusement indulged in. The following ladies and gentlemen from this city were present: Misses Anna Ingles Scott, Blanche Crum, Lillian Thomas, Isabelle Barkley, Bettie Coons, Mamie Hocker and Anna McDougie; and Messrs. Harry Barkley, Harry Owens, Louis Hall of Covington, Stanley Watson, Clarence Dobyns, Oscar McDougle and Will Wood.

Joy at Limestone Farm.

We are not a chronicler of the births of colts, but there was foaled last evening at the Limestone Farm one of such royal lineage that we notice it, for we doubt if ever there has been one higher-bred in performing and in speed producing lines. It is a brown colt, star and hind ankles white, sired by the greatest of all stallions, Allerton 2:09¼, first dam that queen among race mares, Pearl Medium 2:24, she by Happy Medium sire of Nancy Hanks 2:09; second dam Pearl 2:30. It is needless to say this fellow will be given a chance.

Lamentable Affliction.

The Covington Commonwealth says Miss Lizzie Lots, the unfortunate girl whose lamentable affliction has already been noted, was brought from the College Hill Sanitarium by her heart-broken father, as the physicians there pronounced her case incurable, and recommended that she be sent to an asylum.

Miss Lots is an exceedingly pretty girl, well educated and a skillful musician, and her sad affliction is deeply regretted by all. Her father stated that her mind has been weak at periods for the past six months, and he denies most steanuously that there is any love affair connected with it, and asserts that it was caused by a dentist in Indianapolis administering an overdose of gas while drawing teeth.

THE Stewart school text-book bill, already passed in the Senate, and a special order in the House yesterday, was postponed till May 4th.

DR. J. H. SAMUEL, Physician and Surgeon, announces to THE LEDGER readers that he has located permanently in Maysville for the practice of his profession.

AT Covington Ben Uriage, a sixteen-year-old boy struck his father on the head with a beer glass badly hurting him. The lad was arrested but the old man was too ill to appear against him.

IT is settled. The lucky ladies who are to be Kentucky's Commissioners to the World's Fair are Miss Lucy Lee Hill of Lexington, Miss Ida Symmes of Louisville, and Mrs. Susan H. Brown of Owensboro.

MR. CANSLER offered a resolution declaring that the World's Fair Commissioners have totally ignored the wishes of the House in the selection of the lady managers, but the Speaker very properly voted it out of order.

LAST night some mischievously inclined persons removed the bell from the Sixth Ward Schoolhouse. It has been but a short time since the same trick was played at the Fifth Ward school. The police are investigating the matter.

MISS MARGARET REID KACKLEY will sail for Europe in June, to be absent until late in the fall. She was recently given a private reception at the White House by President Harrison, where some forty or fifty covers were laid.

SAM JONES, a farmer living in the Eastern part of Bath county, made a lucky find under rather peculiar circumstances. He and his son went out into the woods to chop some stovewood and commenced operations on an old hollow walnut tree. After it was felled, Mr. Jones chanced to look into the stump, where he discovered a peculiar looking earthen jar. It was at once seenred, and, on removing the lid, the jar was found to be filled with silver coin, the value of which is estimated by a local jeweler to be near $300. How it came to be secreted in such a place and by whom will doubtless forever remain a mystery.

CORDAGE TRUST.

"Count" John Good Severs His Connection With It.

He Has Decided to Resume Operations on His Own Account.

Ith His New Twine Machine He Can Make Things Lively for the Combination—He Will Not Sell His Machine to the Trust Members.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The National Cordage Co., popularly known as the Cordage trust, has been paying John Good, the millionaire inventor and twine manufacturer, over $900,000 a year to keep his mills shut down, and it has held an option, said to be for $7,000,000, on his plant, including a new twine machine that is expected to revolutionize the trade. The trust announced semi-officially some time ago that this option had been taken up, but it leaked out Tuesday that Mr. Good had notified the trust that he did not consider his contracts binding, and that he would open his mill's and keep them open. Wall street was startled by the report, and many inquiries were made at the offices of the Cordage Co., but the story of any break in its relations with Mr. Good was denied there.

When I called to see Mr. Good, who is addressed as "Count" by his friends, for he was made a count of the Holy Roman Empire by the pope in 1887, he smilingly acknowledged that he had severed his relations with the Cordage trust. "But," said he, "I was not forced to. I did it myself, for my own best interests. I have never been a member of the National Cordage Co., but I had a contract with them to shut my mills down, and an agreement that they should have the right to purchase my plants and patents within three years. The contract and agreement are dated November 2, 1891. Under the contract they paid me $900,000 per annum to keep my mills shut down. On April 4 last I returned to the National Cordage Co. the check which was sent me, and notified them that I no longer considered the contract binding, and also that if they proposed to avail themselves of the option they must come down with the money before 4 p. m. on April 25. The money was not paid. As to my reasons for terminating the contract, the chief one is that I find a very large number of my old customers anxious for me to resume operations. The next reason, and a very serious reason some people will deem it, I fancy, is that with my newly invented binding-twine machine I can make a profit on goods at prices which would not pay the cost of production to the National Cordage people. And I can make more money than they were paying me. In a short time I can perfect arrangements to turn out enough rope and twine to supply half the demand of the United States; and let me say here that having decided to resume operations on my own account, I am going to fight on that line for many summers."

Mr. Good manufactures nearly all the machines for the ropewalks in the country, and nearly every ropewalk in the world has to use his inventions. He says he will not sell his new binding-twine machine to any one in the trust. Mr. Good hinted, also, that the Cordage trust was to be attacked in Washington by the representatives of the Farmers' Alliance, the members of which are naturally interested in the price of binding twine.

Kentucky Legislature Adjournment.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 27.—In the senate Tuesday the Mulligan resolution providing for an adjournment May 23, came up. A number of amendments were offered, among them one to fix the time of adjournment at June 15, and for reassembling November 15. After much debate this amendment carried, and the resolution was passed. A motion to reconsider was entered, and a motion to table that motion, failing for lack of a quorum, it fell into the calendar of the day, carrying with it the resolution.

A Scene in the Raum Investigation.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—In the Raum investigation Tuesday Gen. Raum denied making a statement to Mr. Enloe in a private conversation. Enloe called Raum a liar, and grasped a sponge glass to throw at him, but was prevented by Congressman Cooper. Gen. Raum rose hastily from his seat, and in a heated tone said to Mr. Enloe that the man did not live whom he feared. "You (to Enloe) or anybody else."

Suicides at the Drunk-Cure Hospital.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 27.—Monday J. A. Van Felt, a patient in the Hughes Institute, a local concern for the cure of drunkenness, committed suicide by cutting his throat. Tuesday Wm. W. Garrison, traveling salesman for Louis Snyder's Sons Co., a Cincinnati paper firm, also a patient, put an end to his life by taking a dose of morphine. This is the third death in the institution.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—For Tennessee and Kentucky—Generally fair; slightly warmer; southeast winds.

For West Virginia and Ohio—Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness and showers in northwest Ohio Wednesday night; warmer; winds becoming southeast.

For Indiana—Fair, followed in north by light showers; southeast gales,

League Games.

The score on Tuesday's league games resulted as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cincinnati | 10 | Cleveland | 8 |
| St. Louis | 6 | Chicago, (order to come after the National republican convention. | 7 |
| Boston | 16 | Brooklyn | 12 |
| New York | 8 | Baltimore | 10 |
| Philadelphia | 6 | Louisville | 6 |
| Washington | 8 | Pittsburg | 6 |

The Democratic State Convention.

COLUMBUS, O., April 27.—The central committee will decide to hold the state convention June 14 and 15, in order to

IN HOC SIGNO VINCES.

A STRENUOUS effort is being made by persons interested in the passage of the bill recently introduced in the House by Representative Post of Illinois, to reduce letter postage from two to one cent per ounce. A circular has been distributed broadcast and has been received by nearly every member of the Congress stating that 104 members have promised to vote for the bill and urging non-committee members to support it. The circular has been sent to the people in all doubtful Congressional Districts asking that their representatives be instructed to vote for the measure.

ONE CENT POSTAGE.

In response to requests from the House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads as to the effect of one cent postage Postmaster General WANAMAKER has answered that the estimated revenue from domestic mail matter of the first class chargeable with postage at the rate of two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof, mailed during the year ended June 31st, 1890, was $38,068,198, which amount was equal to 62.5 per cent. of the total revenues of the department. There has since been no change in the rates of postage, or in the conditions affecting the revenues, and it may be assumed, he believes, that the proportions of the different classes of matter shown will apply at the present time. The total estimated revenue of the department for the enrrent year has been $72,777,150, of which amount $45,-185,719 has been received from first class matter. The reduction of the rate from two cents to one cent would, in the opinion of the Postmaster General, be followed by a corresponding loss of $22,-742,359. Mr. WANAMAKER thinks that while it may reasonably be expected that the stimulus of lower rates would result in something more than a normal growth of the business, it is not probable that the revenue derived from the extra business would, at the present time, compensate for the loss incurred through a reduction of rate. The Postmaster General is in favor of a reduction of letter postage at the proper time, but he does not believe it has yet arrived, and he will consequently oppose any contemplated change on the ground that it is inopportune.

WHAT a dreadful thing this McKinley Tariff is! It oppresses the American farmer so that he cannot find ships enough to carry the golden grain that he wants to send to the starving Russians.

THOSE who call the McKinley law "the worse than war Tariff" should be reminded that last year under it our customs revenues amounted to only $3 39 per capita, whereas in 1866 the Government collected $4 96 per capita from the same source.

VANCEBURG, KY., April 22.—Judge JAMES R. GARLAND of this city formally announced himself as a Democratic candidate to succeed Senator POYNTZ, who was appointed Railroad Commissioner by Governor BROWN. Judge GARLAND was Judge of the County Court here from 1870 to 1874.

REPUBLICANS NOT IN IT.

There are forty-leven Democrats in the "State of Lewis" who are bilin' over to play the Ascanius act and don the mantle that has fallen from the shoulders of that celebrated expounder of the Tariff, CHARLEY POYNTZ. Maybe "Old Hutch" couldn't paralyze that lead pipe cinch the Demmies think they have!

THERE was a school election at Winchester, O., Saturday, the most exciting in the history of the county. The district is divided on the subject of a new schoolhouse. The proposition was voted down last year, and another fight was made, which resulted in a victory for the new schoolhouse side. JAMES REIGHLEY, Republican, was elected over JOHN PLUMMER, Democrat, by twelve majority. This makes the Board of Education a Republican one in that district.

Moral—When you want progress in school matters, always put your trust in Republicans.

Political Pickings.

The "Hull" of It.

Mayor Davidson of Lexington has issued an order prohibiting the throwing of banana peelings on the sidewalks.

The Tariff Ruins Farmers.

Cattle were exported during March to the value of $3,666,153, an increase of $995,889 over the corresponding month last year.

Cigarettes Yet to Come.

The Sandwich Islands are progressing rapidly in civilization. A baseball league has begun the season, with a schedule of eighteen games.

Worse Than the Lottery.

The Tribune Democrat says the tax payers of Robertson will have to strike a gold mine if the State Board of Equalization gets another whack at them.

Not Very Surprising.

One member of the Louisville City Council called a fellow-member a "numbskull," and the latter didn't understand what it meant. It took three or four knock-downs to convince him.

Democrats Never Resign.

Walter Franklin, who has been Circuit Clerk of Franklin county thirty years, was defeated in the fight for renomination at the Democratic Primary Saturday. He has been in the office fifty years either as Deputy or as Clerk.

Whiskers and the Tariff.

An exchange from Kansas, dated April 22d, says: "Joseph Lewis finished threshing his wheat crop Monday. He threshed 2,800 bushels this time. This makes 8,000 bushels of wheat which he raised on 200 acres of ground last year."

Getting Fat on Driftwood.

A special from Frankfort says great quantities of loose logs have been passing there and it is estimated that as many as ten thousand logs must have gotten away through some mishap to the rafts above. At the least estimate, it is safe to say that $15,000 worth of logs are now loose and floating away from their owners.

Good Bye "Boodlers."

Chicago Herald.—The reign of the secret ballot means, to a great extent, the retirement from politics of bribery, intimidation, bossism and other factors long successfully employed by bold and unscrupulous political managers. As the voters grow in a knowledge of its operations, and thus better understand how effectively it can be employed for their purposes, it will become more and more powerful as an instrument for the promotion of deserving candidates and the rebuke of disreputable office-seekers. All honor, then, to the Australian election system, which establishes and guarantees the absolute equality of the voters, so far as it involves the power and influence of every man's ballot.

SHELLS FOR CAMEOS.

Those Which Are Preferred for the Purpose.

For cameo cutting various kinds of shells are used. There are the bull's mouth (Cassis Rufa), which has a red inner coat, or what is known as a sardonyx ground; the black helmet (Cassis Madagascariensis), which also has a so-called onyx ground, and which shows np white on a dark claret color; the horned helmet (Cassis cornuta), white on an orange yellow ground, and the queen conch (Strombus gigas), with a pink ground. The latter shell, says the Jewelers' Weekly, is about ten inches long, with a rose-colored aperture and an extremely broad lip rounded above.

The bull's mouth and the black helmet are the best shells, for the horned helmet is apt to separate from the ground, or to "double," as the French workmen express it. The queen conch seldom has the two colors distinctly marked from each other, and the pink of the ground fades on exposure to light. The red color of the bull's mouth extends but a short distance within the mouth of the shell, and becomes paler as it proceeds inward; hence this shell affords only a single cameo large enough for a brooch and several small pieces for scarf studs, while the black helmet furnishes on an average about five brooches and several stud pieces. The queen conch yields only a single piece.

Cassia flammea, which is about six inches long, C. decussata and C. tuberosa, which are white upon a dark claret color, are also occasionally used. The bull's mouth shells are derived from India and Ceylon, and the black helmets and queen conches from the West Indies.

FOOLING THE SNAKE.

Rats Construct a Barrier Against a Reptile Who Is Seeking Supper.

Among the prickliest of the cacti of America is one called the toyo, which is covered with spikes to an unusual extent, and so sharp and easily broken are they that one has only to touch them to cause them to penetrate the flesh and to separate from the cactus. There seems to be a poison in the spines; for this reason, says the Irish Times, snakes and reptiles avoid it most scrupulously. A party of rats was found building a veritable fortification of the toyo spines about their burrow; some were at the thickest cutting the thorns; others carried them cautiously to the nest, while others set them in point outwards and very close together. This went on for several days, until a circular line of toyo spines had been constructed from the rock on each side of the burrow hole. One evening the rats were at play outside, when a sentinel rat came running up evidently much alarmed. In a moment the scene was changed and a stream of rats went leaping from stone to stone. They had made a series of steps in the midst of the spines.

Then a good-sized rattlesnake came along, evidently in no hurry, and feeling sure of a good supper. Arrived at the fortification the snake attempted, but ineffectually, to cross it. Several times he tried, but at last drew back as if satisfied that the fortress was impregnable, while some of the rats ventured out of the hole and evidently much enjoyed the discomfiture of the enemy.

A VERY HOT SUN.

Its Surface Temperature Is Placed at Three Thousand Degrees Centigrade.

Sir William Thomson has calculated that the quantity of fuel required for each square yard of solar surface would be no less than 13,500 pounds of coal per hour, equivalent to the work of a steam engine of 63,000 horse power. This enormous expenditure of fuel would be sufficient to melt a thickness of about forty feet of ice per minute at the sun's surface, says the Gentlemen's Magazine. Sir John Herschel says: "Supposing a cylinder of ice forty-five miles in diameter to be continually darted into the sun with the velocity of light, and that the water produced by its fusion were continually carried on, heat now given off constantly by radiation would then be wholly expended in its liquefaction, on the one hand, so as to leave no radiant surplus, while, on the other, the actual temperature at its surface would undergo no diminution."

As to the actual temperature at the sun's surface, various estimates have been made by different observers. Secchi supposed it to be about 10,000,-000 degrees of the centigrade thermometer and Sporer 37,000 degrees of the same scale, while M. Pouillet thinks that it lies between 1,461 and 1,761 degrees. M. Becquerel, Prof. Langley and Sir William Thomson consider that the temperature of the solar photosphere cannot exceed 3,000 degrees centigrade. According to M. Saint Claire Deville the temperature is somewhere about 2,000 degrees to 2,800 degrees.

A REMARKABLE COINCIDENCE.

How a Letter Brought Back Its Own Answer.

Among the stories of extraordinary coincidences, writes a London correspondent of the Leeds Mercury, not the least curious is the history of a letter. A short time ago a lady in London wished to write to a friend in America, whose address she did not know. The only means she had of procuring the address was to write to a mutual friend, who also lived in America. This she accordingly did, and the letter was duly dispatched. The ship which carried the letter was wrecked and the mails for a time lost. They were eventually recovered and brought back to England, the letters, now much damaged by sea water, being returned through the dead letter office to the senders. The letter in question was sent back to the lady, who naturally examined it minutely. To her surprise she found that another letter had become closely stuck to it. Holding np the two-fold missive to the light, she deciphered the address on the one which was stuck to her own. It was a letter addressed to the friend to whom she wished to write, and to discover whose whereabouts her own letter had been dispatched. Her letter thus literally brought back its own answer.

ENORMOUS PRESSURE.

Great Timbers Fur Underground Become Like Iron.

The enormous depth of the great Comstock mines in Nevada and the gigantic and incomprehensible weight of the mass of stones and earth resting upon the timbers (which actually hold np the mountains that have literally been honey-combed by the miners), have wrought wonders which puzzle the deepest thinkers. For instance, says the St. Louis Republic, queer polished sticks, as smooth as dressed mahogany and not thicker than your wrist, are often taken out of deserted portions of the mines. They are as hard and as heavy as iron, and a knife of the best material will not make a scratch on them.

Originally they were solid oak timbers twelve by twelve inches square. But why are they no thicker than a walking stick upon removal after having seen years of service? The weight of the mountain bearing upon them from all directions, perpendicularly as well as laterally (for it is only in this way that mines of enormous depth can be safely timbered) has wrought the wonders seen in the polished stick. Sometimes these transformed timbers are found in small sections, sometimes in long pieces, and are taken out where care-less have occurred and displaced the workings.

It is a well-known fact that paper can be compressed until it will be so hard that a diamond will hardly tonch it, but no known mechanism of the present or the past has such power to compress and work marvels with wood.

THE PAINTER'S MODEL.

In His Youth He Posed as "Innocence," in His Age as "Guilt."

A painter once wanted a picture of Innocence, and drew the likeness of a child at prayer. The little suppliceant was kneeling beside his mother, the palms of his uplifted hands were reverently pressed together, his rosy cheek spoke of health, and his mild blue eyes were npturned with the expression of devotion and peace. The portrait of young Rupert was much prized by the painter, who hung it on the study wall and called it "Innocence!"

Years passed away, says the Irish Times, and the artist became an old man. Still the picture hung there. He often thought of painting a counterpart, the picture of "Guilt," but had not found an opportunity. At last he effected his purpose by paying a visit to a neighboring jail. In the damp floor of his cell lay a wretched culprit named Randall heavily ironed. Wasted was his body, and sunken his eyes; vice was visible in his face.

The painter succeeded admirably, and the portrait of young Rupert and Randall were hung side by side for "Innocence and Guilt." But who was young Rupert and who was Randall? Alas! the two were one. Old Randall was young Rupert led astray by bad companions, and ending his life in a damp and shameful dungeon.

THE SPHERE OF MATHEMATICS.

It Is a Very Broad One—Discovering a Planet.

The science of mathematics has a long reach. Its capabilities are no more strained by the task of determining the distance of a star or predicting the exact moment of an eclipse than by that of finding the contents of a corn crib or the sum total of a grocer's bill. Strictly speaking, says the Rural Collaborator, the one is no more wonderful than the other, save that the higher process calls for special knowledge, which comparatively few persons acquire. But to the average uninstructed sense there is a near approach to the supernatural in some of the exploits of astronomical experts.

Of this sort was the ciphering out, so to speak, of the planet Neptune, sixty times as large as the earth and twenty-five hundred millions miles away from it, by Prof. Adams, the deceased British astronomer. He observed certain perturbations of the planet Uranus, and deduced therefrom that there ought to be just such a planet as Neptune discernable by a good telescope at a certain point in the heavens.

Dr. Galle, of Berlin, turned his telescope to that precise spot, and there was the new planet—new, though innumerable ages old.

THEY WHIPPED 'EM FREELY.

How the Elegant Manners of the Rising Generation Are Formed.

In a work just published in Germany, says the Galignani Messenger, some account is given as to how discipline was once maintained in a German schoolroom. One Johann Jakob Haberle, who died some years ago, kept a diary, and he jotted down in the course of his fifty-one years' schoolmaster's career the number of times he administered punishment to his recalcitrant pupils.

Schoolmaster Johann records that he distributed 911,517 strokes with a stick; 240,100 "smites" with a birch rod; 10,-980 hits with a ruler; 136,715 hand smacks; 10,235 slaps on the face; 7,005 boxes on the ears; 15,800 blows on the head; 12,763 tasks from the Bible, Catechism, the poets and grammar.

Every two years he had to buy a Bible to replace the one so roughly handled by his scholars; 777 times he made his pupils kneel on peas, and 5,001 scholars had to do penance with a ruler held over their heads.

As to his abusive words, not a third of them were to be found in any dictionary.

Tiger Bones.

Some curious items are found in the lists of China's trade statistics. For instance, the report of exports from Ichang, a large city on the Middle Yang-tse-Kiang, contains an item of 13,000 pounds of tiger bones, valued at nearly $3,000. Only a Chinese would think of putting tiger bones to any other use than that of a fertilizer, but in China tiger bones are used as a medicine. They impart to the invalid some of the tiger's strength. Another item is 9,000 pounds of old deer horns, worth $1,700—another medicinal agency with whose peculiar properties western medical science is not yet acquainted.

DISPOSED OF.

Ravachol to Be Imprisoned for Life.

It Don't Look as If "the Game Were Worth the Candle."

Somoni, One of the Others on Trial, Sentenced for Life—Ravachol Coolly Admits the Truth of the Charges and Gives Reason For His Cause.

PARIS, April 26.—The trial of Ravachol, alias half a dozen other names, Charles Achille, Jao Beala, alias Joseh Marius, Charles Ferdi and Chaumartin, and the girl, Rosalie Soubere, begna Tuesday at the Seine assize court. The trial opened at 11 o'clock.

After the jurors had taken their places the prisoners, headed by Ravachol, were brought in. They were surrounded by an immense number of police. The proceedings were at once commenced by the reading of the indictment, which occupied some time.

When the reading of the indictment was concluded, Judge Guese examined Ravachol concerning the murders which it is charged he has committed, and also concerning the explosions. Ravachol, in a nonchalant manner, admitted his guilt, and took upon himself the entire responsibility for the boulevard St. Germaine and the Rue Clichy explosions.

When questioned as to his motives for causing the explosions, Ravachol replied: "I felt a feeling of unfeigned anger at the conviction of Levallois and Perret. I do not think that Benoit and Bulot should have demanded the death of the fathers of families. Then, again, the brutality of the police when they arrested my comrades revolted my conscience, and I determined upon revenge."

Ravachol concluded his remarks with an exposition of his theories. He said: "I wish to see anarchy established, and the whole people as one great family, each member ready to share what he has with his brethren. I committed these outrages in order to draw the attention of the public to the needs of the anarchists."

Simon was next examined, but no new revelations were obtained from him. He admitted his complicity in the outrages.

Chaumartin said when examined that Ravachol stole from Soisel the cartridges which he intended to use in blowing up the palace of justice.

The other two prisoners tried to exculpate themselves.

The witnesses were then called, and the testimony corroborated all the details of the crime set forth in the indictment.

M. Beaupaire, the public prosecutor, in his address to the jury, declared that the prisoners were deciples of the famamous bandit, Claude Duval, and equaled, if not excelled, him in the daring manner in which the acts of outlawry were performed, and in their utter disregard of all established laws. He said that they had not sought to convert the people to their opinions, but to terrorise them, and to subject them to fear will by reducing them to a state of abject fear.

In referring to the law against associations of malefactors, and indicating the prisoners seated near him with a sweep of his hand, he said: "The real title of these men is assassins, not anarchists. This is, therefore, merely a matter of common law."

The prosecutor's speech, which lasted two hours, will be memorable in the annals of the bar for close reasoning and brilliant invective.

The prisoner, Simoni, is a youth of 18 years, with squinting eyes and a villainous appearance generally. Ikala and Chaumartin present a more pleasing appearance. Rosalia Soubere was pale and squalid, with unkempt hair.

Ravachol and Simoni were found guilty, and sentenced to penal servitude for life. The other prisoner were acquitted.

An Engineer's Terrible Death.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 27.—George Graham, engineer of the double-screw ferry boat Cincinnati, of the Pennsylvania railroad Courtland street line, met with a terrible death Tuesday afternoon. The engineer lost control of the machinery, and the boat passed into the slip with frightful force. Many of the passengers were thrown violently from their seats, but no one was seriously hurt. The boat was loaded, however, and the engine was making a horrible grinding sound. An investigation showed that the engineer had been thrown into the driving shaft and had been ground to pieces. It took thirty minutes to remove his remains from the machinery.

Prominent Man Assassinated.

ZOLFO SPRINGS, Fla., April 27.—S. A. Sauls was shot and instantly killed while standing in the door of his store in one of the main streets. The night was very dark. There is no clew to the murderer. Nearly every one else in the village had gone to bed. Sauls was a leading merchant of the town, and the most prominent man in the county. Our days he was elected a delegate to the democratic convention. Political excitement is running high in the county, and may have something to do with the murder.

The City of New York's Great Feat.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The Inman Line steamer City of New York, from New York for Liverpool, arrived at Queenstown Tuesday, making the passage in six days, one hour and eight minutes. On the 26th the steamer made the largest run—482 miles—ever made by any steamer to the eastward. Her running time for this distance was twenty-three hours and ten minutes.

Minnie Johnson's Punishment.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 27. — Minnie Johnson, who set fire to the Indiana female reformatory because she had been separated from a colored girl for whom she had conceived an infatuation, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

LOST BEARD AND BRIDE.

Abraham's Nap and a Bad Barber Stop a Wedding.

NEW YORK, April 27.—For twenty years tailor Abraham Pacoli, who is 45, wore a beard that was the pride of his life and the envy of his sequaintances. It was of a warm, golden hue, and fell some eighteen inches below his chin. A long mustache sprouted from his upper lip and was incorporated in the beard.

Pacoli captured the heart of one of Moore street's fairest and wealthiest daughters three months ago. Esther Palmoski is her name. Esther and Abraham were to have been married Monday at the synagogue on Moore street. Early in the morning the bridegroom called on Isaac Cohen, a barber, to have his beard trimmed. After giving explicit directions to the barber, Abraham leaned back in the chair and went to sleep.

Cohen misunderstood Abraham, evidently, for in a short time the bridegroom's chin was as bare as the egg of Columbus. With the first flick of the towel Pacoli awoke.

As he caught sight of himself in the glass he uttered a yell of horror. Then there was trouble, in which the smoke of battle cleared Mr. Cohen was in a condition which may necessitate his retirement from business for a few days.

Pacoli sought consolation from his loved one, but, to his horror and dismay, she declared that she never could marry a man whose beardless appearance was so unprepossessing as was his minus his beard. Tears, entreaties and coaxing were all lost on the girl, and finally, frantic with grief, the beardless one rushed to the Sixteenth precinct station house to invoke the law on the destroyer of his hair and happiness. He was told to apply to the Lee avenue police court.

"QUITE SERIOUS."

How the Imprisoned Stockmen Size Up That Little Affair.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 27.—The stockmen and Texans are now kept under strict surveillance at Ft. Russell. No one is allowed to see them except with a permit secured from headquarters. A rope was drawn about one side of the building and outside of this none are allowed to go except by permission of the post commandant and in company of some officer on business which had been stated. The same fare is provided for all though the stock party will get better food as they pay for it and have it shipped from town. Some of the party look quite badly. This is particularly true of W. J. Clark, the water commissioner of Johnson county, who looks like a physical wreck. Most of them look upon the affair as quite serious and decline all interviews with newspaper representatives.

BLACK FOOT, Idaho, April 27.—Information is just received here that a party of cattlemen from Wyoming hunting cattle thieves in Johnson Hole, the alleged rendezvous for all horse and cattle thieves for hundreds of miles, came upon the habitation of two parties known as Burnett and Spencer, and in their efforts to arrest them, both men were killed, and it was found that they were in possession of over fifty stolen horses.

STATE OF WAR

Exists in Paris Between Society and Anarchists—Bomb-Throwers Must be Crushed Like Venomous Snakes.

PARIS, April 27.—The greatest excitement reigned Tuesday over the dynamite outrage of Monday night, and for the first time in many years threats of lynching were freely uttered in the streets. Among the respectable class a fear has given way to an angry and desperate feeling, and should the law spare either Ravachol or his accomplice, it is probable that the public may put an end to the matter themselves.

The sentiment is that a state of war virtually exists between society and the anarchists, and now the latter must be crushed like venomous snakes. M. Very, proprietor of the restaurant in which Ravachol was arrested, is still living. He is in a critical condition, and the doctors hardly dare to express a hope of his recovery.

GEN. GRANT'S BODY.

Movement to Transfer It From Riverside Park Abandoned.

NEW YORK, April 27.—A special to the Herald from Washington says the movement to transfer the body of Gen. Grant from New York to the National cemetery at Arlington, has substantially come to an end. The senate committee on military affairs determined after the death of Senator Plumb, to ascertain positively the views of the Grant family before acting on the resolution introduced by the Kansas senator.

It was found that Mrs. Grant would rather have the body of her husband remain where it is than a contest in congress over its removal. This fact taken in connection with renewed activity of the managers of the monument fund, decided the senate committee to drop the resolution and leave the body of Gen. Grant in Riverside park.

Policie Petering Out.

NEW YORK, April 27.—A Maracaylo (Venezuela) cablegram to the Herald states that the federalists have fought another battle with the government troops and again scored a victory. The fight occurred on the plains near Valencia, and this completely unified the federalists, the majority of whom are lancers.

Dynamite at Bordeaux.

BORDEAUX, April 27.—A dynamite cartridge was exploded Tuesday afternoon in the hall of the residence of the Swiss consul at Debourne, a suburb of this city. No damage was done, but the affair has caused much excitement.

Anarchists Raided in Berlin.

BERLIN, April 27.—The police of this city made another raid upon lodgings occupied by anarchists. They succeeded in capturing twenty prisoners, and in seizing a quantity of the usual literature.

The U. S. Cruiser Boston at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 27.—The U. S. cruiser Boston arrived at this port Tuesday at 12 o'clock.

WIPED OUT.

The Town of Shreve, O., Visited By Fire.

All the Business Portion of the Place Entirely Destroyed.

Buildings Torn Down to Stop the Flames—Wooster Appealed to For Aid to Save the Town—The Cause of the Conflagration Entirely Unknown.

WOOSTER, O., April 27.—A big fire started in Shreve in Dr. E. D. Pocock's office, on south Market street.

The fire quickly spread beyond the control of the firemen and rapidly burned north for nearly a whole block on the east side, consisting of Cal Vanmimon's harness store, A. W. McClannahan's grocery, Unkell Bros.' restaurant, Smith & Becker's meat market, and the town hall.

Minners' harness store and Wesley Denny's barber shop and building were torn down to stay the progress of the flames.

It was with great effort that buildings on the west side of the burned district were saved. They caught fire and were badly scorched.

Fearing the whole town would burn, Wooster was asked for assistance, and responded with a steam fire engine and a number of firemen on special train, but when they arrived at 12 o'clock the fire was under control. The loss is about $15,000, with very little insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

PNEUMATIC MAIL SERVICE.

Col. Whitfield Is Superintending the New Work at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Col. Smith A. Whitfield, first assistant postmaster general, who has been in St. Louis for the past few days on business connected with the post office department, has completed his visit and entered on his return to Washington. Col. Whitfield says that in St. Louis the first practical pneumatic service for carrying mail matter will be introduced. "The department has had the idea of the pneumatic service before it for a long time, but this is the first instance where it will be worked out. The conditions in St. Louis are peculiarly favorable.

"In Chicago the distances are so great, as well as the cost of securing right of way, that it will be some time before they can have a pneumatic transfer. In St. Louis the principal wholesale grocerymen are located together in the Cupples building, and a station will be established there, they bearing a portion of the expense. A double pneumatic tube, each four inches in diameter, will be laid from the central post-office to that building, a distance of 3,000 feet. This can be done cheaply, as the route lies through the St. Louis Bridge Co.'s tunnel, and no overhead line or subway will be needed.

"The mail matter is to be borne in small cartridges, which will make the journey in one minute. The expense of construction will be taken from the general appropriation for rents and improvements. One reason why the pneumatic system has not been established in the cities of the east and greater appropriation which would be unavoidable. I have no doubt of the success of the proposed line. Mr. Wanamaker and all his assistants are strongly in favor of the use of the telegraph in the postal service. It is bound to come, and I was agreeably surprised in St. Louis to find a decided interest on the subject."

WORRIED TO HIS GRAVE.

Millionaire William Astor Dies Suddenly in Paris.

NEW YORK, April 27.—A special to the Evening World from Paris states that William Astor died Monday night at the hotel Liverpool. The cause was heart failure. Mr. Astor was the father of Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton, and was greatly worried over the Burrowe-Fox-Millbank scandal in which she was involved. Next to his nephew, William Waldorf Astor, and probably Jay Gould, William Astor was the richest citizen of America. His wealth was recently estimated at between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000, the greater part of which is invested in New York real estate.

Candy Patent Injunction.

CHICAGO, April 27.—By a decision rendered by Judge Bidgett Monday, the American Biscuit Manufacturing Co. is perpetually restrained from using the Moffat patented process of making stick candy, unless it obtains a license to do so. The Biscuit Co., better known as the Cracker trust, has been using the patent for some time, and declined to pay the royalties thereafter. Other manufacturers using the process followed the example thus set, and the suit against the trust for infringement of patent followed.

A Horse Man Commits Suicide.

KANSAS CITY, April 27.—J. H. Teller, a horse dealer from Springfield, Mo., committed suicide in a room at the Fifth avenue hotel, where he was stopping. He wrote a letter to the coroner stating that he desired to give that official as little trouble as possible and would inform him that the cause of the writer's death was a shot from a pistol in the writer's own hand.

An English Hanging.

LONDON, April 27.—George Henry Wood, twenty-six years old, formerly a porter at the Brighton railway station, was hanged Tuesday for the murder of Edith Jeal, five years old, in a shed at Kemptown on December 16, last.

Anarchists Arrested in Italy.

ROME, April 27.—A number of the anarchist leaders in this city and in other towns in Italy have been quietly taken into custody by the police. This action was taken simply as a matter of precaution.

Congressman Springer Renominated.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 27.—The Democrats of the Thirteenth Congressional district met here Tuesday and renominated for [illegible]

ART IN BRONZE.

The Vanderbilt Doors Said to Be a Masterpiece of Their Kind.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The massive bronze entrance grilles, or doors, designed by Architect Richard M. Hunt, of this city, for the new marble house erected by Wm. K. Vanderbilt at Newport, R. I., are now on exhibition.

The grilles and framework are said to be the most important pieces of artastic metal work ever manufactured in this country. The approach to the Vanderbilt house is in the shape of a horseshoe rising from the street, with a marble pedestal in the center, supported by four marble columns. The grilles will supply the place of the ordinary door.

The grilles and their framework are 25 feet in width, 16 feet high and weigh more than 10 tons. Each door weighs 1½ tons, yet so carefully are they swung that a child can open and close them.

It took 60 men 10 months to finish the work. The cost will be more than $50,000. The design is of the period of Louis XIV. The exterior is of cast bronze, with verd-antique finish. The applied ornamental floral and scroll work is in fire gilt. Between the outer and inner grille is a hinged frame that will contain a single plate of ambloned glass.

The entire metal work was cast or wrought on the premises. The columns of the frame-work, while seemingly massive, are very delicate and artistic. Above each door in bas relief are the head and draped skin of a lion, and in the center of each door is Mr. Vanderbilt's monogram. The doors are taken apart Wednesday for shipment. Art students and others interested in metal work were given an opportunity to see the grilles Tuesday.

A FALSE RUMOR

Concerning the Funds of the State Geologist of Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 27.—In some unaccountable way a report gain in currency in this city and state house Tuesday that State Geologist John R. Proctor, whose term expires next month, had overdrawn the appropriation allowed his bureau by several hundred dollars. An examination of the book in the auditor's office shows the fact that there remains $1,047 of the appropriation, and if the transfer of an item of expense amounting to $900 from the specific appropriation to the public office fund is held to be improper, there will be still over $100 to the credit of the bureau. A legislative committee is investigating the bureau in all branches, and Senator Wortham, who is on the committee, says the report is without authority of the committee, though he thinks the bureau has not been as economically conducted as it might have been. A committee gave the accounts a thorough investigation two years ago, and then supported the bill continuing the survey. The superintendent can not overdraw without the consent of the governor and auditor, and there can be no overdraft unless they indorse the voucher.

"HE IS DEAD."

George Wilkes, Who Lately Died in New York, Thought To Be the Coughing Check-Snicker.

CINCINNATI, April 27.—A fact which has not been mentioned in connection with the name of George Wilkes, the celebrated bunk forger, who has recently died a whisky wreck, and, probably the victim of a murder, is that no less a personage than Chief of Detectives Hazen has placed Wilkes in the list of suspects in the late "Mr. Hunt" bank swindle, in this city. Wilkes was a millionaire rascal in his time, but of late, since his celebrated confession, which got him out of prison in Switzerland and put half a dozen other rascals in, he has been, to use a technical term, "on the skates." All his old associates shunned him, and his health was so broken by drink that he was actually reduced to beggary. There is no question but that he had the ability to forge the check, such as the Mr. Hunt's, and his description is close to that of the man with the cough. An impression is growing in police circles that the astute old chief has picked the right man, and that "Mr. Hunt's" misdeeds will be answered before a higher tribunal than any earthly one.

KING OF TRAMPS.

Hasan Mohammed Plodding Toward San Francisco With That Marriage License.

ABILENE, Tex., April 27.—Hassan Mohammed, the king of tramps, arrived here Tuesday morning on foot from Baird, a town east of here, twenty-one miles distant, which place he left at 7 a. m., Tuesday. He is now 161 miles at end of schedule time; has lost six hours since leaving Ft. Worth, caused by his wheelbarrow breaking down at that time on Saturday last. He is in fine health, and seems confident of making his 10,000 miles in less than the required time, which is May 10, 1893. He left Tuesday afternoon direct for San Francisco, after a lay off here of several hours. He still has his wheelbarrow he started with, and says there is not a woman in Abilene he would marry under any consideration.

Van Loon Pronounced Guilty.

OTTAWA, O., April 27.—Guilty of murder in the first degree was the verdict of the jury in the Van Loon case, given at 8:30 Tuesday evening. At 4 Tuesday afternoon the counsel for defense finished argument, and Judge Handy, in a clear and able manner, charged the jury. The verdict is a surprise to many, who believed that the conflicting testimony of the witnesses from Columbus Grove would save the prisoner, while others expected a verdict in the second degree, and were not prepared for the seemingly harsh verdict, but were forced to admit in their inner conscience that it was a just verdict.

New York's Delegates-at-Large.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—It may be safely stated that the delegates-at-large to be chosen by the republican state convention, to be held here on Thursday, will be Chauncey M. Depew, Thos. C. Platt, Warner Miller and U. S. Senator Hiscock.

NATURE'S ANTICS.

Remarkable Phenomena in Southern California.

Unfathomable Fissures in the Earth Created by Internal Convulsions —A Very Mysterious Region.

A few months ago a small party of prospectors left San Diego for that little known country lying below the Mexican boundary, just west of the Colorado river. This region is supposed to be full of valuable mineral deposits and prolific in natural phenomena.

They spent a couple of weeks on what is known as the Santa Ysabel ranch, some miles northwest of the Cocopah mountains. While there they heard that frequently during several days a heavy rumbling had been heard in the direction of the Cocopahs. Proceeding to Las Juntas, a little settlement made up of a few Indians and a white man or two, they spent several days there in prospecting.

Here they were told by a man named Elliott that from a high hill he had seen what seemed to be a cloud over the Cocopah mountains, and had also heard heavy rumblings, and once at night had seen a dull light apparently on the very top of the mountain. He believed it to be a volcano. Indians had also brought reports that unusual disturbances had been observed in the Cocopah region, and they were greatly frightened.

They recrossed the line into the United States, and at Indian Wells, on the Colorado desert, not only heard more about the rumblings and smoke, but for the first time saw the smoke themselves, a cloud-like shape that seemed to rest almost on the earth. The party came westward, and on the night when the earthquake shock was felt in San Diego were camped on an elevation some 5,000 feet above the sea level.

That night they not only felt the severest earthquake shock, but plainly saw a great light shoot upward in the heavens directly over what was believed to be the main Cocopah mountain. The light continued with greater or less brilliancy late into the night, while the rumbling was almost incessant and the tremors frequent.

The next morning a murky cloud of the color made by burning sulphur hung like a vast umbrella low on the horizon all day and there were frequently recurring shocks of earthquake. The party remained in camp that night and saw the light in the same place, but much fainter. George Nickle, who has a ranch on the eastern slope of the mountains, said that on the night of the great shake he saw an illumination of the heavens directly over the Cocopah mountains. The light changed repeatedly, being sometimes very bright, sometimes dull and almost imperceptible. The next morning he saw an umbrella-shaped cloud where he had seen the light the night before. There is no doubt in the minds of all who saw the light that it was an active volcano.

Nickle, who is a Scotchman, and a veteran of the Campo country and proprietor of the Jacumba ranch on the edge of the desert, states that a few days after the first severe earthquake he was on the desert looking after cattle that had strayed into the direction of Indian Wells. He found that the earth was cracked in many places as a result of the earthquake.

Some fissures were nearly two feet wide. One afternoon he was riding fast when his horse stumbled on the edge of a huge fissure. He reversed himself, however, and jumped across. Campbell turned back to look at the huge crevice, which was about eighteen to twenty-two inches wide and extended north and south as far as he could see and apparently had no bottom.

The next stage out from Campo to Yuma passes through a deep canyon, both sides of which rise apparently to a great height. Mr. Gaskell says that one hundred huge rocks have been dislodged from the mountain sides and rolled to the bottom of the canyon, obstructing travel so much that it is almost impossible to get through with a wagon. This canyon is near Coyote Wells, in Jacumba valley, where are hot and cold springs to which many invalids resort for bathing. Mr. Campbell, the proprietor, says that the flow of the hot springs has ceased entirely.

GARFIELD'S ASSASSIN.

Guiteau's Last Drink—How His Body Was Boiled.

Dr. Tilden, formerly chemist at the national medical museum, has told a reporter some unwritten history about Guiteau, President Garfield's assassin. He said that the assassin went to the scaffold in a semi-drunken condition. "This," added the doctor, "was a necessity. You are aware that when a squad of soldiers entered the jail within a short while before the execution and came to 'order arms' with a loud bang Guiteau fell over in a dead faint. His nervous system was shattered, and the physicians felt that they would be unable to get him to the scaffold. A consultation was held and it was decided to give him a dose of brandy. This was done and he got a big dose too. Not being used to drinking, the dose went to his head, and his 'Oh Lordy' song on the scaffold was, in my estimation, a drunken effort.

Dr. Tilden, says the San Francisco Chronicle, described how the body of Guiteau was removed to the museum, then located on Tenth street. He said that the body was never buried, but, after being placed in the coffin, was taken down into the jail cellar, where it remained until after midnight. Soon after that hour an ambulance drove up to the building and the remains were quietly placed therein and quickly driven down town. Then they were taken into the basement through the alley which runs in from F street. Once in the building all that remained of Charles J. Guiteau was taken into the boiler-room and placed in an immense boiler, where it was allowed to boil and bubble until all the flesh had fallen from the bones. The latter were then picked out and bleached, and some day will form an interesting exhibit in the medical museum.

MT. OLIVET.

Charles Daley and Will Heiser, Maysville wheelmen, spent Sunday in Mt. Olivet.

Thomas Ogdon has opened his new dry goods store which is well stocked and very metropolitan in appearance.

James Morrison, proprietor of the Roller Mills, sent a dispatch to Richmond, Ind., Monday and received an answer in less than an hour, which wasn't bad considering. With a road—electric or steam—to Maysville, this will be one of the best country towns in the state.

The Robertson Sunday-school Union held its convention at the Walnut Street M. E. Church Sunday afternoon. Several enthusiastic speeches were made. Visitor E. S. Boswell of the State Sunday-school Union was present and aided in carrying on the work.

The organization of a Knights of Pythias Lodge at this place has been agitated for some time. In pursuance of an arrangement previously made, quite an enthusiastic meeting was held at the Courthouse on Saturday evening last. Grand Vice-Chancellor Chamberlain of the Grand Lodge was present and delivered a good speech. Messrs. Charles Wood, Will Ross, James Spencer, Wallace Howe and Sam Howe, Knights from Carlisle, came to assist. Mr. Ross made some practical remarks. Mr. Wood, who is a good talker, made an effective address, setting forth the merits of the Order. Thirteen names were signed to the petition for a charter. As fifteen is the requisite number, it is very probable that the remaining two will be obtained and the order established here.

To Our City Subscribers.

William O. Outten has charge of the delivery of THE LEDGER to all city subscribers, and he will make collection of the subscription accounts.

Orders should be given to him, or they may be left at the office for him.

Subscribers who do not receive their papers promptly are requested to report to the office.

Green all Through.

Mrs. Lizzie Wheeler, a Louisville lady, paid a Gypsy fortune teller a dollar to work a charm, and thereby lost $108. The Gypsy persuaded the lady to place $108 in a little green box and wrap it up in a dirty undergarment and turn her back and make a wish while she waved her hands over her to work the charm. While the lady's back was turned the Gypsy changed boxes and exacted a promise from the lady that she would not open the bundle for twenty four hours. Mrs. Wheeler's wish was that she might be reunited with her husband, from whom she recently separated. She now wishes that she may be reunited with her $108, from which she more recently separated.

A Fayette County Farm.

Meadowthorpe Stock Farm, that was the property of W. H. Cheppu, was not sold to New York parties, as stated last week, but was bought by the well known distiller and breeder of thoroughbreds, Colonel James E. Pepper, whose celebrated distillery is only a half mile from the Meadowthorpe residence. The price paid was the highest ever realized for a Bluegrass farm—$275 per acre. It is the intention of Col. Pepper to improve the property in a manner that will make this the most beautiful and convenient establishment in the world. On his famous Pepper Distillery premises is a magnificent quarry of Kentucky limestone, and from this he will secure enough stone to erect a magnificent castle that will be a wonder to the Bluegrass. The farm is already equipped for the breeding business, which the Colonel will continue, using the best strains of blood that can be found in America and England.
